

Madame!

I appeal to Your Majesty as the monarch of one of the world's oldest kingdoms, in whose eyes an extraordinary amount of visible changes took place. However, external changes are powerless to change the essence of life, which lies in the steady approach to the final choice between the incorporeal and the material life.

Despite the official warning on the portal of the Royal House about non-interference in any political or personal disputes, the hope of Your Majesty's benevolent participation moves Your respectful correspondent to ask for highest attention of Your Majesty to the stated issue, which, I hope, in view of its humanitarian nature, will earn its share of favor in a series of more important and responsible matters.

Since 2011, Your humble correspondent, on his own initiative and without any support, is making attempts to create environmentally friendly and safe transport - a high-speed tram, in the city of my birth - Moscow, and in which there is still no such transport. London in this regard is one of the recognized examples of the creation of multimodal transport systems, which can serve as a very important model for improving the ecology of the capital of Russia.

Over time, the project initiative to create a high-speed tram was supplemented by a few other initiatives: paying entry to the historical center of Moscow, greening the streets of the center of Moscow and giving them security status, as well as a several system proposals for improvement — transport and environmental initiatives can draw on the experience of London.

Due to some legal and technical difficulties, I'm forced to turn to the cardinal decision maker of Russia - the President of the country - Vladimir Putin, however, due to a number of formalities, project is still unable to receive effective assistance, as well as positive progress in local human rights organizations and local courts on constitutional, anti-monopoly and administrative legislation.

Benevolent assistance of Your Majesty, as the world's Right Honorable monarch, whose authority has been approved by the long experience of government in a state that has passed many peripetias, through which my country also passes, in drawing the attention of the Russian leader to my appeals and expert advice would be truly inestimable!

Details of the volunteer project are given at the link to the project website - www.uzir.ru, and in my facebook profile - <https://www.facebook.com/rzhumanov>. Information can be translated into English upon request.

By developing and detailing the proposed systemic changes in Russian legislation, it is possible to enhance the role of local government and move in a number of densely populated areas to the provision of public utilities and public transport services free of charge for the population.

It will be extremely useful for the project if Your Majesty's highest attention marks that the proposed governance mechanisms are non-national and within the UN can become a reliable basis for new forms of international cooperation, spreading successful practices that have been tested in Russia and are useful for replication in other countries.

Daring to appeal to Your Majesty on this seemingly exclusively domestic Russian issue, Your Majesty's duteous appellant held in front of himself extremely deep roots that connected the House of Saxe-Coburg with Russia and gave our country a true ray in the darkness of hundred years ago chaos - Grand Duchess Elizaveta Fedorovna, born Elizabeth Alexander Louise Alice of Hesse-Darmstadt, glorified by the Russian Orthodox Church in the face of Russian saints and whose memory of the martyr's demise takes place on July 18.

With deepest reverence and waiting for gracious participation, humble admirer of true greatness and clemency
